

I welcome the possibility of Satellite radio providing local info on my morning commute. Quite frankly, the state of commercial radio news is pretty terrible, limited almost entirely to non-profit college and public stations. I welcome any competition in that area.